The graph shows the distribution of "μ(b,c)+jet" candidates from LHCb data with distinguishing colors for different categories: red for "b", green for "c", and blue for "udsg". The x-axis represents the TOPO BDT values, and the y-axis shows the number of candidates. The data points are marked with black dots.