The diagram shows the efficiency of the LHCb Upgrade simulation under different conditions of misalignment. The lines represent:
- No misalignment
- SciFi misaligned
- VELO misaligned

The x-axis represents nPV (normalized number of primary vertices), and the y-axis represents efficiency.